

Public Policy Agenda

Ending Violence Against Women

- Economic insecurity has devastating consequences in the lives of survivors of domestic violence, dating violence, sexual assault, and stalking. Abuse can impose significant expenses on survivors, including physical and mental health care costs, lost wages, safety planning, and relocation costs. Furthermore, economic abuse can result in life-long consequences due to job loss, debt, damaged credit, or coercion into crime. When combined with today's high cost of living, shortage of good jobs, and diminished safety net, these impacts of abuse severely limit survivors' options and ability to achieve safety and justice.

Economic Justice

- We advocate for a wide range of economic justice issues affecting women, from the glass ceiling to poverty. These include welfare reform, livable wages, job discrimination, pay equity, housing, social security, and pension reform, and much more.

Women's Health

- Women's health has been a low priority for a long time and is an important part of the conversation when we discuss a family's economic stability.
 - Tampon tax
 - Infant & Maternal Mortality
 - Maternal Incarceration
- Health care is a human right. We advocate for all individuals to have access to health care.

LGBTQ+ Rights

- We are committed to fighting discrimination based on sexual orientation or gender identity in all areas, including employment, housing, public accommodations, health services, child custody, and military policies. We are committed to educational efforts that combat the adverse effects of homophobia, promote positive images in the media and ultimately ensure civil rights protection for all. We assert the right of LGBTQIA individuals to live their lives with dignity and security, and marriage equality for all.

Constitutional Equity

- Equality in pay, job opportunities, political structure, social security, and education will remain an elusive dream without a guarantee of equality in the U.S. Constitution. The progress we have made — and must continue to make — towards women's equality can be lost at any time because those advances depend on legislation that can be (and has been) weakened or repealed by Congress.
